

NEW ORLEANS FAMILY JUSTICE CENTER

2014 SUMMARY REPORT

Vision

Our vision is a future where we all work together to meet the needs of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking survivors through comprehensive and accessible services, education and perpetrator accountability. Through a coordinated and colocated model we strive to break the vicious generational cycle and community impact of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking.

Mission

New Orleans Family Justice Center is a partnership of agencies dedicated to ending domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking through prevention and coordinated response by providing comprehensive survivor-centered, empowerment services in a single location.

Service Pledge

We promise to:

- Provide survivor-centered services.
- Provide community outreach and education.
- Create an atmosphere and culture of empowerment.
- Enhance partner collaboration and excellence.

New Orleans Family Justice Center has been an important part of the lives of survivors of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking -and their families - in New Orleans for the past 8 years. We are operated by the New Orleans Family Justice Alliance (501 c3 organization), and affiliated with the National Family Justice Center Alliance, the agency responsible for the family justice center model in America and world-wide.

Locally, New Orleans Family Justice Center provides services to survivors and their children with a variety of needs and circumstances related to domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking. The survivors we serve include those in need of emergency safe shelter, counseling, civil legal assistance, and trauma recovery services.

At New Orleans Family Justice Center, we believe that with support, survivors that receive services at our center will reclaim their lives, and live free from abuse and trauma. Our goal is to assure that in New Orleans, survivors of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking are empowered and our community will support our efforts to break the cycle of violence.

A Community Partnership That Cares For Hurting Families

New Orleans Family Justice Center FUNDING AGENCIES

MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN THE LIVES OF SURVIVORS

Identification of the realities surrounding the problem of domestic violence in New Orleans should be framed by issues of poverty, race and community violence. Like all forms of violence, domestic violence is a serious concern in New Orleans. While domestic violence spans all socio-economic strata, the barriers experienced by those who are most severely impacted by poverty and race are decidedly more at risk and have fewer options available for escaping an abusive relationship. The NOFJC dismantles educational, financial and housing barriers to empower survivors, giving rise to safer and healthier families in Greater New Orleans.

Domestic violence is a public health crisis causing $5 billion in lost wages and hospital visits annually. New Orleans Family Justice Center responds to the issues facing survivors and their children by providing comprehensive wrap-around domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking services. The services include counseling (individual and group), children's trauma services, civil legal services, crisis intervention, case management, education and employment assistance, emergency safe shelter, transitional housing, and teen services.

Without our funding partners, services would not be possible:

Children Exposed to Violence

At least 10 million children and adolescents witness domestic violence each year. Parents or caregivers involved in a domestic violence relationship may think that the fighting does not affect their children. Even children who do not see domestic violence are affected by the conflict.

Children exposed to domestic violence may exhibit:

Anxiety or increased fear

Anger

Depression

Sleep problems

Spending more time alone

Increased aggression

Bullying or being bullied

Changes in appetite

- Fighting at home or at school

Loss of interest in school, friends or other things they enjoyed in the past

Speak Up! Dating Abuse Prevention Program

Overview

During preteen and teens years, young people are learning the skills they need to form positive, healthy relationships with others. This is an ideal time to promote healthy relationships, and prevent patterns of relationship violence that can last into adulthood. [Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. "Understanding Teen Dating Violence".] Rates of dating violence among teens continue to increase in our community and the New Orleans Family Justice Center's Speak Up! Dating Abuse Prevention Program is at the heart of prevention and awareness efforts in the metropolitan area.

Speak Up! strives to combat the issue of dating abuse by providing resources to schools and communities, teaching dating abuse curriculums, coordinating assemblies, participating in community/school events, and generating & conducting research.

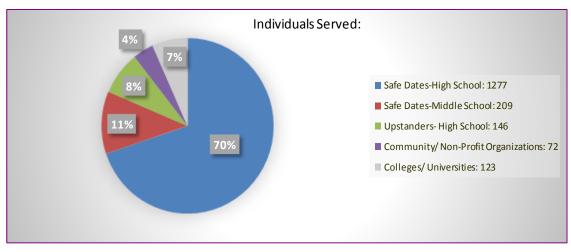

1 in 3 girls in the U.S. is a victim of physical, emotional, or verbal abuse from a dating partner, a figure that far exceeds rates of other types of youth violence.

Davis, Antoinette, MPH. 2008. Interpersonal and Physical Dating Violence among Teens. The National Council on Crime and Delinquency Focus.

43% of teen dating abuse victims reported that the dating abuse they experienced occurred in a school building or school grounds.

Lockyer, B., & O'Connell, J. (2004). A preventable epidemic: Teen dating violence and its impact on school safety and Academic Achievement California Attorney General's Office and the California Department of Education.

Services/Programs Delivered

2014 Prevention Programs – Made possible with funding from:

Safe Dates: An Adolescent Dating Abuse Prevention Program is a 50-minute, 10-session dating abuse prevention curriculum that addresses the attitudes and behaviors that are associated with dating abuse and sexual abuse. This is a research-based curriculum that has been shown to have powerful long-term outcomes and teens that participate in the Safe Dates program have shown 56-92% less dating abuse victimization and perpetration than teens that have not been involved in the curriculum.

Upstanders: Helping Teens Take A Positive Stand is an evidence-informed bystander intervention curriculum that focuses on the prevention of the perpetration of sexual abuse. Upstanders is designed to assist 11th and 12th graders in an age-appropriate manner while developing positive social skills that will help them take a positive stand and act on behalf of themselves and others.

Love Is Not Abuse: College Edition is a dating violence and abuse prevention curriculum designed for college students. The goals of the curriculum are to increase students' understanding of dating abuse, enable students to reach out to provide support and help to a friend or family member who may be involved in an abusive relationship, increase help-seeking behavior among students involved in abusive dating relationships, and promote healthier approaches to dating relationships and conflicts.

Care ♥ageous Kids™ is an evidence-based primary prevention curriculum with a focus on the prevention of the perpetration of sexual violence. It is designed to assist children in an age-appropriate manner with developing positive social skills that will reduce their likelihood of perpetration.

Community Education and Prevention Training is a 2-3 hour training for professionals who want to enhance their skills, knowledge and response to the issues of teen dating violence. This training will increase the attendees' capacity to recognize, respond to and prevent violence to create social change.

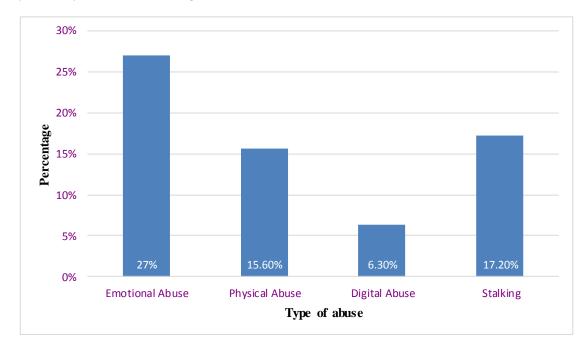

Teen Dating Abuse Survey

The Knowledge, Perceptions, and Prevalence of Teen Dating Violence and Available Resources in Orleans Parish Survey began as a collaborative effort with a Tulane University Public Health Undergraduate student/ NOFJC 2014 Intern, Sara DeStafano and the Tulane School of Public Health and Mary Amelia Women's Resource Center in generating and evaluating data in ongoing teen dating violence programming. According to the 2013 High School Youth Risk Behavior Survey (YRBS), conducted by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Louisiana displayed the highest score for teens' experiences in physical dating violence (among 778 teens, 14.8% revealed experiencing physical dating violence one or more times during the 12 months before the survey, including being hit, slammed into something, or injured with an object or weapon on purpose by someone they were dating or going out with among students who dated or went out with someone during the 12 months before the survey.)

New Orleans Family Justice Center 2014 COMMUNITY OUTREACH AND IMPACT

COMBINED FEDERAL CAMPAIGN

15 Presentations were conducted at USPS and Internal Revenue Offices upon invitation.

Impact: Employees were made aware of the New Orleans Family Justice Center and its services that are provided to survivors and their children of domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking within our community. Awareness helped employees of these offices determine the need of their contributions to our agency through United Way.

FAITH BASED COMMUNITY

25 Local Churches received presentations from the New Orleans Family Justice Alliance. In addition, the Association of African American Baptist Churches, consisting of 30 churches known as Cornerstone MBCA, sent representatives to tour the NOFJC and received domestic violence information.

Impact: Congregants were made more knowledgeable of the subject matter and felt compelled to distribute information to families in the community seeking assistance. Partnerships have been established and an increase in donations from the faith based community has been realized.

COMMUNITY HEALTH AND WELLNESS FAIRS

Participants at five (5) area events were made aware of the agency and information on Domestic Violence and where to receive assistance was distributed.

MEDIA PRESENCE

The New Orleans Family Justice Center has become the local expert on issues related to domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking in the New Orleans Region. In 2014, there were 54 occasions where the Director or a staff member was either interviewed on television or quoted in a newspaper article.

Additionally, the survivors who have received services were involved extensively in legislative committee hearings as well as local coverage on these issues.

FJC REGIONAL TRAINING CENTER

300 Participants received 3 days of best practice training of sexual assault conducted by national experts and trainers in the field.

872 Participants received intensive training on the dynamics of domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking, trauma informed services, understanding trauma and developing workplace policies and procedures.

3 Groups from around Louisiana were hosted by the NOFJC to share information about the FJC model and to assist with planning efforts to expand this co-location model in other jurisdictions.

TOURS

30 Tours totaling 500 people introduced to the services at the NOFJC.

New Orleans Family Justice Center 2014 HIGHLIGHTS

Governor Jindal Signs Sweeping Statewide Reform Bills into Law

History was made in 2014 as Louisiana Governor Bobby Jindal signed seven bills into law aimed at stopping domestic violence. These bills make up the most aggressive package ever introduced and passed by the state legislature to address the issue.

House Bills 747, 750 and 753 authored by Rep. Helena Moreno, provide for stricter criminal penalties for domestic abuse battery and for violation of protective orders, including dispossession of a firearm during a protective order and for 10 years following any conviction of domestic abuse.

Senate Bills 291 and 292 authored by Sen. J.P. Morrell, provide for the award of exemplary/punitive damages for serious physical and mental health injuries caused by domestic abuse and for an immediate divorce and support.

HB 1052 authored by Rep. Moreno, creates the Domestic Violence Prevention Commission. This Commission will assess the state's resources and needs for preventing domestic abuse and recommend legislation and other measures to fill the gaps.

HB 1142 authored by Rep. Roy Burrell (D) Shreveport, provides that a domestic violence victim may be able to have some input in whether bail is set or not for the victim's abuser. Now called Gwen's Law, it's named after Gwen Salley of Caddo Parish. In April, her husband spent less than 24 hours in jail for a domestic violence incident after posting bond. Forty-eight hours later, he shot Gwen.

Danger Assessment - When HOME is not a SAFE PLACE

The Danger Assessment is an instrument that helps to determine the level of danger an abused woman has of being killed by her intimate partner.

- The tool was originally developed by Jacquelyn Campbell (1986) with consultation and content validity support from battered women, shelter workers, law enforcement officials, and other clinical experts on battering.
- There are two parts to the tool: a calendar and a 20-item scoring instrument.
- The 20-item instrument uses a weighted system to score yes/no responses to risk factors associated with intimate partner homicide. The levels are:

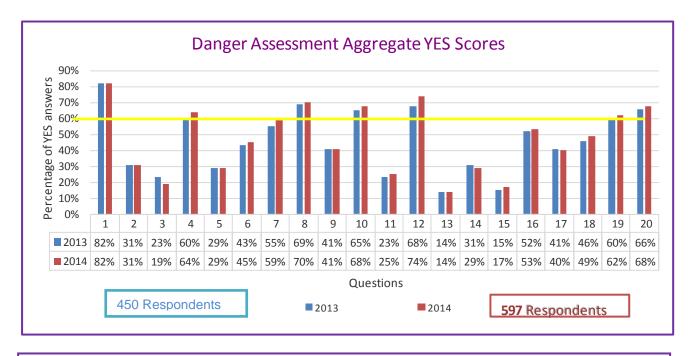

Score	Level
Less than 8	Variable Danger
8 – 13	Increased Danger
14 – 17	Severe Danger
18 or more	Extreme Danger

2014 N.O. FJC Client's Level of Danger

Indicates that survivors at high risk are getting to the NOFJC and are receiving services they need to remain safe

Danger Assessment - Aggregate Scores - 2013 and 2014
